

Capability Statement

812-339-9114 | CommercialService.com

Commercial Service has served central Indiana since 1946. We offer a full range of commercial and residential services and our purpose is simple—to offer the best service and knowledgeable technicians at a competitive price.

Our heating and cooling experience is second to none—we've worked on some of the most prominent historical renovation projects in Southern Indiana history, we have the experience of designing Class 100,000 clean rooms for international medical manufacturing organizations, and we are one of the largest Honeywell Building Automation dealers in the country.

The bottom line is we will provide the same high level of service and attention to details regardless of the project size or customer budget.
